SHATTERED DREAM?

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

AMBITIOUS plans for the multi-million pound regeneration of Harlow town centre's dilapidated northern quarter were thrown into chaos this week after the developers and main investors pulled out of the scheme.

Australian construction giant Stockland had been due to submit planning applications for the first phase of the project this summer but will now pull its investment after announcing a complete withdrawal from the UK in the wake of the recession.

The long-term future of the regeneration proposals now hangs precariously in the balance, with partner agencies Harlow Council and Harlow Renaissance likely to have to go back to the drawing board and re-start the tendering process to find another private development firm willing to take on the mammoth project.

Latest blow to strike town centre project

THE Town Centre North regeneration project has been dealt several blows since early designs were unveiled to the public last summer.

Just one week after the public consultation on the proposals opened in July, local entrepreneur and major landowner Mo Ghadami told the Star the redevelopment team had "not even bothered" to consult with him over the plans.

Mr Ghadami, who owns a large share of the land and properties set to be demolished, claimed the council had "misled" the public into believing the project was feasible and vowed to derail the plans by refusing to sell up.

The following week, Geminex Hotel & Leisure Management – which owns a parcel of land in Crown Gate earmarked for transformation into the town's new bus terminus – told the Star it also had no intention of selling up to developers.

The firm had only acquired the land five months earlier and had secured planning permission to build a new Travelodge hotel on the site.

The scheme then came under fire from Harlow Civic Society, which claimed the plans to transform Harlow into a sub-regional shopping centre ignored concerns over a lack of infrastructure and did little address to the "concrete collar" cutting the town centre off from surrounding neighbourhoods.

Civic Society is keen to revisit and amend plan

HARLOW Civic Society, the voluntary group set up to preserve and protect the town's heritage, said the setback gave the council and its partners the chance to amend the plans and re-assess the project's "piecemeal" approach.

The group's vice-chairman John Curry told the Star: "The project as it stands lacks coherence, and hopefully this new setback will force the redevelopment team to re-assess their piecemeal approach."

"We have serious reservations about the scheme, and we now hope that whoever replaces Stockland is willing to in frank and open discussions with us, the public and the town's stakeholders before blindly ploughing ahead."

Will Harlow ever get its new look?

PUTTING Harlow's regeneration plans back on track could take months to complete, meaning work on the first phase of the project – originally due for completion in 2013 – will almost certainly be hit by considerable delays.

However, the designs themselves – drawn up by architects Engle last year and presented to the public as part of a consultation on the proposals – are owned by the council and could still be used as the blueprints for future work.

Andy MacDonald, Stockland's head of major projects, told the Star: "Harlow Town Centre North is a fantastic scheme and it is with regret that we at Stockland will not be here to see its completion."

"We'd like to thank the people of Harlow for their involvement in the scheme to date and we look forward to seeing Harlow Council and its partners deliver this once-in-a-lifetime transformational project."

According to a joint statement issued on behalf of the multi-agency redevelopment team of Harlow Council, Harlow Renaissance, East of England Development Agency, Essex County Council and The Homes & Communities Agency, a new private development partner will now be sought to replace Stockland.

Harlow Council leader Andrew Johnson added: "It is disappointing that Stockland have decided to pull out of the UK, but we are still in a great position to deliver this scheme for Harlow."

"We have done a great deal of work to take the scheme forward, building on the huge public support for the scheme, and have a number of important anchor tenants keen to move to the revitalized town centre."

The news is the first major headache for Harlow's new Conservative MP Robert Halfon, who told the Star he remained confident the project would be delivered, despite the setback.

"There is no doubt that this is a setback for the regeneration of the town centre, but I put my faith in Harlow Renaissance, Harlow Council and the other partner agencies – the plans will still go ahead," he said.

Dixy's pals to raise cash for ICU ventilator

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A GROUP of friends are raising money for a piece of life-saving equipment for Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital in memory of a pal who died earlier this year.

The hospital's intensive care unit needs £47,500 for a special high frequency oscillator ventilator.

Whereas a standard ventilator mimics a normal breathing pattern of between 12-8 breaths a minute, this HFOV can deliver up to 500 tiny breaths during the same period.

It can be used to help people with severe lung disease such as pneumonia, which can leave the lungs very stiff and unable to tolerate a normal breath volume.

To hire one of these machines costs the hospital around £2,200 per week.

The group of friends decided to help raise money to buy the machine in memory of Paul Dix. One of the friends, Matthew Oatham, said: "During Dixy's illness he spent six weeks in the ICU ward at the hospital, with much of this time spent on a high frequency oscillator ventilator.

"During that time we all became aware as to how valuable the HFOV is to patients like Dixy and sadly how expensive it can be for the intensive care unit to hire."

The group are planning to take part in as many fundraising events as possible, as well as holding their own, to raise cash for a ventilator.

In July the Paul Dix Memorial Team will be taking part in the 57-mile London to Cambridge bike ride.

Meanwhile, staff at the hospital have organised a charity ball and auction on Saturday, October 30 at the Manor of Groves Hotel in High Wych. A drinks reception will be followed by a four-course meal and entertainment provided by jazz legend Kenny Ball.

Tickets cost £60 and available by contacting either Sarah Jones or Claire McClements on (01279) 827904.

Anyone who would like to pledge money to the cause can do so at www.justgiving.com/ituventilator.

Marathons trio raise thousands for charity

TWO members of staff at princess Alexandra Hospital and a former patient have been counting the cash after running marathons.

Matron Ally McInroy, who is head of customer services and complaints at the Harlow hospital, raised £1,800 for the Alzheimer's Society after running the Brighton Marathon in a time of 5h57m.

Lydia Atkinson, a staff nurse on Saunders Ward, completed the London Marathon in 4h27m and raised £2,000 for the charity Missing People.

Also taking part in the London Marathon was Kirsty Cutcliffe, a patient at the hospital stroke unit in May last year. She finished in 4h17m and raised £1,200 for the Stroke Association.

A PAH spokesman said: "It was a first marathon experience for them all and although they felt they could never do it again on reaching the finish line, they are already considering their options for next year."

Salon's support for GOSH appeal

THE customers of a Harlow beauty salon have raised more than £800 for Great Ormond Street Hospital.

Gigi's Hair & Beauty, in the Harvey Centre, took part in the HAIRraising appeal to raise £1m for new operating theatres at the children's hospital in London.

Salon owner Gladys Wright said: "We're really delighted to show our support for such a fabulous cause."

"Every member of the team wanted to get behind HAIRraising and show we will go to any lengths to help these children. By adding £1 donations from customers' bills and the other fundraising we did, we are thrilled to have raised over £800."

The salon is also celebrating after being awarded a four-star rating in the Good Salon Guide.

Gavin will follow pilgrims' route

HARLOW man is planning a four-day pilgrimage to Canterbury in aid of the city's cathedral.

Gavin Kruyer (29), of Rivermill, will start the 60-mile walk from Southwark next Thursday (May 20), following as closely as possible the route of the pilgrims in the days of Chaucer, and hopes to complete the journey next Sunday.

He has set himself a modest fundraising target of £100 for the charity Canterbury Gift.

"I hope I will raise enough money to help the cathedral with some of its restoration work," he said. "It is one of our nation's treasures and needs to be looked after for future generations."

To sponsor Gavin, visit his website www.justgiving.com/Gavin-Kruyer for more details.

Fashion show at town centre shop

TOWN centre retailer Monsoon Accessorize is holding a fashion show next Thursday (May 27) to raise cash for charity.

Staff and friends at the Broad Walk shop will be modelling the current season's collections, with hair and make up by Harlow salon Avant Garde.

Mini manicures, makeovers, hair advice and raffles will be available, and all proceeds will go to the Monsoon Trust Charity.

Customers can also take along their old Monsoon clothes and swap them for £10 discount on purchases that night, regardless of age and condition. The old clothes will be sent on to charity.

Pensioner raped on woodland footpath

DETECTIVES have issued an urgent appeal for information after an elderly woman was raped in Old Harlow.

The incident occurred on a footpath between London Road and the Newhall housing estate shortly before 11am on Tuesday morning.

A large section of woodland adjacent to the path has been cordoned off while police and forensics specialists carry out a search of the area.

The victim – a Harlow resident in her 70s – has been interviewed by specially-trained officers.

Her attacker is described as a stocky white male in his 40s. He is around 5ft 5in tall and was wearing a blue T-shirt with a yellow stripe on the arm or cuff.

Anyone with any information should contact detectives at Harlow CID on 0300 333 4444 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555111.

Schoolboy slapped by angry mum

POLICE are investigating an incident in Harlow where a schoolboy was slapped by a woman who suspected him of bullying her son.

The assault on the 16-year-old took place at the junction of Southern Way and Milwards at 8.30am on Friday.

A dark blue Ford Fiesta drove onto the pavement and a woman got out of the passenger seat.

She approached the victim, shouting at him accusing him of being someone called Ashley and bullying her son.

The boy – who was not called Ashley – denied the accusation and the woman slapped him around the face. The woman then got back in the car and it drove off.

The suspect is described as black, aged 30-40, 5ft 5in tall, of slim build and wearing black trousers, knitted cardigan, dark blue scarf and a ring on her left hand.

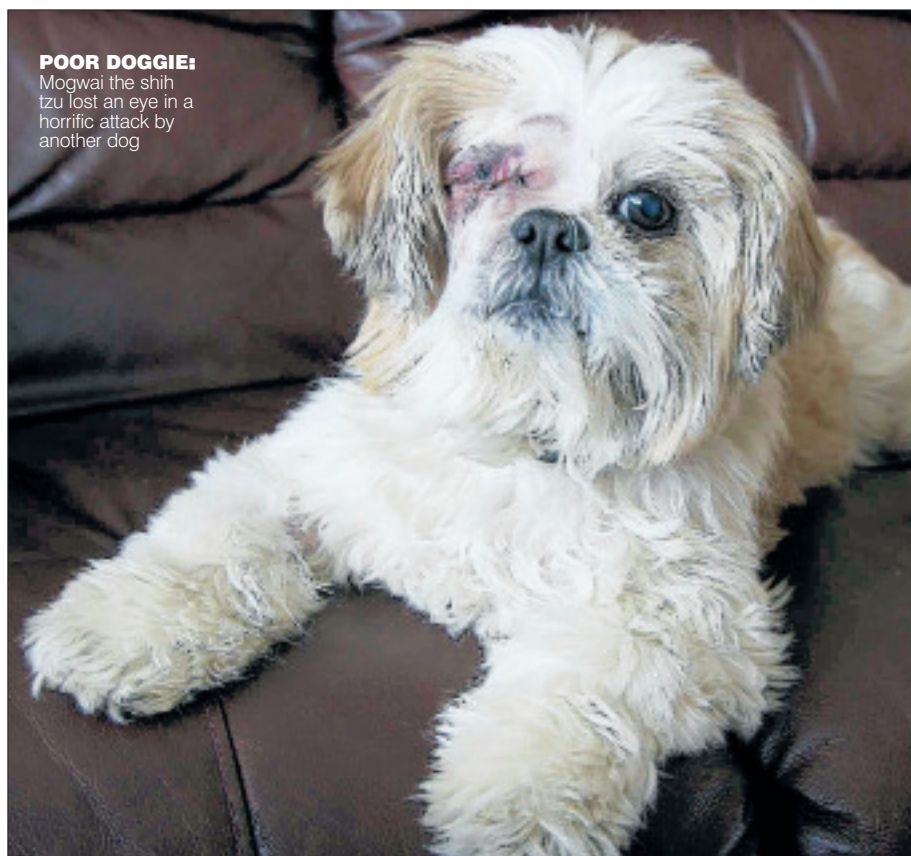

PC Kat Alison said: "This was an unprovoked attack on an innocent schoolboy during a busy time of the day."

Anyone with any information, please contact PC Alison at Harlow police station on 0300 333 4444 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Purse snatch attempt fails

POLICE are hunting a man suspected of attempting to snatch a handbag from a woman as she walked along a cycle path in Harlow.

The attempted robbery took place on the track near Turners between 11.45am and 11.56am on Saturday, April 17.

POOR DOGGIE:

Mogwai the shih tzu lost an eye in a horrific attack by another dog

Dog owner's fury after elderly pet loses an eye

A FURIOUS dog owner has warned Church Langley residents to be on their guard against a ferocious black dog that ripped one of her elderly shih tzu's eyes out during a brutal dog-on-dog attack.

Jean Iszatt, of Ashworth Place, Harlow, was left with a vet's bill of £600 after 12-year-old Mogwai was savaged by the vicious animal on a bridle path near Barnsley Hall on Saturday afternoon.

"This huge black dog just ran over towards us, clamped its jaws around Mogwai and started shaking her around," she told the Star.

"I was screaming at it to stop but it wouldn't let go until its owner finally managed to control it – I couldn't believe that it hadn't been put on a leash."

Ms Iszatt scooped up her bloodied pet and rushed her to a nearby veterinary practice, but it was too late to save the injured dog's right eye.

"I've been hit with a vet's bill of £600, but at least Mogwai survived and now seems to be on the mend."

"I don't want to start a witch-hunt – I just want to warn other dog owners that this vicious animal is out there. Hopefully, the owner will make sure it's kept on a lead from now on."

Sports centre start date put back AGAIN

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE opening of Harlow's long-awaited multi-million pound sports centre has been delayed AGAIN, the Star can reveal.

The latest projected opening date for the Leisurezone in Second Avenue is now late June or early July – the fourth time the date has been put back.

And the Star understands that the company building the project is facing fines for the delays which could amount to almost three-quarters of a million pounds.

The delay is the latest setback to hit the project, which was originally set to open last October before bad weather and then health and safety concerns held back its completion.

As reported in March, building contractors Leadbitter were expected to hand the complex over to Harlow Sports Trust by the end of April.

This would have allowed the centre to be fitted out ready for opening to the public later this month, but this has now been put back at least another month.

A message left on local swimming club Harlow Penguins' website revealed that the opening is not expected until July 1, when the swimming club is planning a move to the new facility.

Harlow's new Conservative MP Robert Halfon said the delay was "bad news".

"I have been assured by Harlow Council that it will open in late June," he said.

"I hope this is the case as Harlow people have waited for far too long."

A spokeswoman for the trust denied that the current opening day estimate deviated significantly from previous estimates.

"Our position has not significantly changed since our last statement and the opening of Leisurezone is now imminent," she said.

Meanwhile, Oxfordshire-based Leadbitter is facing fines of £20,000 a week for the delays, the Star understands.

The trust's spokeswoman confirmed it was claiming damages but would not disclose a figure.

"The contractual arrangements between the Homes and Communities Agency and Leadbitter are confidential," she said.

"But damages are being levied in accordance with the contract, their purpose being to offset the additional costs incurred by the Gateway Partners due to the delays."

No one from Leadbitter was available for comment on the subject.

DELAYED! The opening date for the new Harlow Leisurezone has once again been put back.

'I promise to work hard to fulfil the pledges I make...'

HARLOW'S new Conservative MP has pledged to protect local organisations and make community his top priority after an historic victory in Thursday's General Election.

Speaking to the Star after his win was confirmed in the early hours of Friday morning, Rob Halfon paid tribute to his predecessor and spoke of his determination to deliver on his campaign promises.

"It's a great honour to be chosen as Harlow's new MP," he said. "I must pay tribute to Bill's many years of public service and wish him and his family well."

"I've fought hard for this privilege for the past 10 years and it's a great feeling to have finally won – but the hard work really starts here and I have a number of key priorities in my new role."

"The public hate politicians who make promises they can't keep, but I will always work hard to fulfil the pledges I make and repay the trust voters have put in me."

"I am a community Conservative, so will always act to support and strengthen community organisations even when financial resources are not readily available."

"To me, communities are the bedrock of a stable society and are fundamental to our well being."

"I will work hard to bring more jobs to the town to give Harlow's economy a much-needed boost and I will also encourage and support the growth of educational and vocational training schemes across the town."

On the contentious topic of Harlow North, Mr Halfon reiterated his belief that current plans for the development should be scrapped.

"While I am not against the building of much-needed new housing, I believe we have to go back to the drawing board and engage with residents in a much more democratic way," he added.

WINNER: Robert Halfon

Third time lucky Halfon as town

HAPPY MAN:
Harlow's new
MP Rob Halfon

IT was third time lucky for Conservative parliamentary candidate Rob Halfon as he swept to an historic election victory on Thursday.

Mr Halfon recorded a swing of 5.9 per cent to take the key marginal seat from Labour rival Bill Rammell with a majority of 4,925 votes.

Turnout was 65.13 per cent – up almost 3 per cent on 2005 – meaning 44,020 of the town's total electorate of 67,583 cast their vote.

The constituency was one of the Conservatives' top targets after Mr Halfon narrowly lost to Mr Rammell – who has held the seat since 1997 – in the 2005 campaign by just 97 votes.

And with the Tories retaining overall control of Harlow Council despite losing one seat to Labour in the local elections, it is the first time in the town's history that Harlow has both a Conservative MP and a Conservative-run council.

Mr Halfon, who took 44.9 per cent of the vote, told the Star he was "absolutely delighted" to have been voted in as the town's new MP after losing out to Mr Rammell in the last two General Election campaigns.

"It hasn't quite sunk in yet, but I'm absolutely delighted and honoured that the people of Harlow have put their faith and trust in me to be their next MP," he said.

"I've been waiting for this opportunity for 10 years, and it's a wonderful feeling to have finally made it."

"This has been a close-run, hard-fought campaign and I will continue to work hard for the people of Harlow to repay their trust in my abilities."

On what proved to be a difficult night for Labour nationwide, a downcast Mr Rammell accepted his defeat with dignity, offering Mr Halfon his congratulations and

Labour pick up six seats, but Tories stay in control

THE Conservatives have retained overall control of Harlow Council despite Labour winning six seats on the authority in Thursday's local elections.

The Tories now have 18 councillors after losing one of their two Netteswell seats to Labour, while the Liberal Democrats – formerly the main opposition – had a disastrous night, losing three of their eight seats.

With a third of the seats on the authority up for grabs, Labour were the evening's big winners with four gains and two seats retained.

The party has increased its number of councillors from six to 10 and is now the main opposition on the council.

Labour leader Councillor Mark Wilkinson said they had "bucked the trend" of poor election results for the party.

"It's a mixture of people seeing the way that the Conservatives have destroyed services in the town often with Lib Dem support and the Labour group being extremely constructive in coming forward with ideas for saving services," he said.

"I think we're now seen as a major threat to the Tory administration."

Conservative councillor David Carter lost his Toddbrook seat to Labour's Rod Truan.

And fellow Tory Linda Pailing, who had held a seat in Netteswell, failed to oust Labour's Tony Durcan in Little Parndon & Hare Street after switching wards.

But the party's Guy Mitchinson won the Staple Tye ward from the Lib Dems.

Conservative and council leader Councillor Andrew Johnson said: "We're now no different from where we were six months ago before Linda Pailing defected to us."

"The fact that we gained one in Staple Tye is an endorsement from the people of Harlow for the decisions the Conservative council has made in the last year.

"The Lib Dems and Labour said we would be decimated because of the decisions the council has been taking, but that has clearly not been the case."

The Lib Dems lost their seats in Bush Fair, Mark Hall and Staple Tye, making the group the smallest on the council with just five councillors.

Party leader Councillor Chris Millington believed the Lib Dem vote was squeezed out by national politics.

"We believe it was our highest ever poll," he said. "But I think we suffered though because Harlow was a marginal."

"The Tories had their Ashcroft money and Labour had a high-profile minister in Bill Rammell."

"With all that we got squeezed – during a normal election the result would have been very different. We will regroup and make sure our voice is heard."

for Conservative dumps Labour

DOWN AND OUT: Labour's Bill Rammell knows his time as an MP is up wishing him "immense success" in his new role.

"I'm obviously very disappointed about losing, but I genuinely wish Rob all the best for the future," he told the Star.

"It's been an absolute privilege to serve the people of Harlow these past 13 years – it's a constituency that I love and the place where I grew up and still live."

Liberal Democrat candidate David White was left ruing an anticipated surge in support that never was, with the first-time parliamentary candidate only mustering 5,995 votes – less than 1,000 more than his predecessor Lorna Spencelely managed in 2005.

Yet he remained upbeat despite his disappointment, paying tribute to Mr Halfon and Mr Rammell for their "excellent" election campaigns.

"Obviously the Liberal Democrats have not won here tonight, but we all live in Harlow and will be back next week continuing to work hard to make Harlow a better place," he added.

THIRD: Liberal Democrat David White was disappointed, but vowed to continue working for Harlow

'It has been an absolute privilege to serve this town for 13 years ...'

LABOUR candidate Bill Rammell offered his "genuine congratulations" to the man replacing him as Harlow's MP after 13 years.

Reflecting on a hard-fought election campaign, Mr Rammell said he was disappointed to lose but admitted he always faced a tough battle to retain his seat.

"It's been an absolute privilege to serve the people of Harlow these past 13 years, but I must offer my genuine congratulations to Rob and wish him all the best for the future," he told the Star.

"I only beat Rob by 97 votes last time around, so it was always going to be difficult to win this time."

"Although it was clear from the

doorstep that many people had a real appreciation for the hard work I put in as their MP, it was evident that with a national voting trend shifting towards the Conservatives I had a real fight on my hands.

"But although I'm obviously very disappointed to have lost a seat that I've held for 13 years, it was heartening to see Labour perform very well in the local elections.

"And looking at results nationally, even though the Tories have fared better than us, there has not been a 1997-style swing towards one party.

"Let's not forget we were a three-time Labour government in the midst of a global recession, but still the Conservatives have failed to get a decisive, ringing endorsement from voters."

Girl power in Race for Life

SOME 3,600 women took part in the Cancer Research UK Race for Life in Harlow Town Park on Sunday.

The majority of participants ran, walked or jogged the shorter 5k race but 600 took part in the new 10k course following the cycle paths in the park.

The new longer race was won by Isabel Kuhl who crossed the finishing line in just 48min, while Isabel Moss won the 5k race posting a time of 21min.

The fundraising total has yet to be tallied up, but organisers are hoping an astonishing £289,000 has been raised in aid of Cancer Research UK.

Around 90 volunteer marshals were on site from 6.30am making the event possible.

Harlow Race for Life organiser Lucy Hynes said: "It was a fabulous day. The weather wasn't great but when you get that many people together it doesn't really matter."

"They were together for such an important reason."

"At one point I asked the runners who had been affected or known someone affected by cancer and every single one put their hands up."

"There were many people there walking or jogging - what mattered was that they were taking part in such a special day."

"And it wasn't just about the 3,600 runners - their families were there cheering and supporting those taking part."

He's a real comic book crimefighter

THE owner of a comic book shop in Australia became a real-life superhero when he caught a robber red-handed - while dressed as Spider-Man!

Michael Baulderstone, who had dressed up in costume for a promotional event, spotted a customer behaving suspiciously.

CCTV footage taken from the store shows him leap into action and confront the would-be thief, who had slipped a rare X-Men book worth around £100 into his bag.

The brave shopkeeper said his customers thought it was a stunt until he asked them to call the police.

"We had about 40 people dressed up as their favourite superheroes to celebrate International Free Comic Day, so the thief didn't have much of a choice but to hand the book back," Mr Baulderstone told reporters.

To complete the bizarre scene, a group of Jedi knights blocked the door to prevent the thief from escaping while The Flash looked on!

"I've had a look at the security footage and it shows Spider-Man running down the corridor of the shop, grabbing this guy and hauling him off," said Mr Baulderstone.

"It was a bit serious at the time but now we're laughing back at what greeted the police when they arrived at the shop."

'Hung' council

Confusion reigned at County Hall after a swing to the SDP/Liberal Alliance left Essex with a "hung" council. The Conservative, Labour and Alliance groups met to discuss what form the new look council would take.

Movie queen

Harlow's own queen of the movies, Lucy Hunt, retired after 25 years at the Odeon cinema. She joined staff for a late-night celebration, saying goodbye to the cinema where she had been manager for 16 years.

Office go-ahead

ITT's new office block has been given the go-ahead by Harlow Council. The company wants the building at the junction of Station Approach and Edinburgh Way to house its 270 workers in the town.

Corrie star's visit

Bill Roache, better known as Coronation Street's brainy newspaper editor Ken Barlow, was in Harlow to open the Elm MFI superstore in Howard Way. The Corrie star cut the ribbon on the new 19,000 sq.ft. showroom.

Health visitor was a friend to many mums

KEEPING a check on the health and wellbeing of babies and children is surely one of the most important jobs that a health worker can do.

And if you grew up in the Potter Street area of Harlow in the 1960s and '70s the chances are you would have come under the watchful eye of health visitor Eileen Philp.

Eileen came to Harlow after seven years as a health visitor in Westminster and was appointed to Osler House in the spring of 1959, working there until she retired in 1980.

These pictures were sent in Heather Wright, of Potters Feild, who said: "Miss Philp, as she was known, became not just a health visitor in Potter Street but a friend and community supporter to the families of Potter Street. She was very much respected by the doctors and staff with whom she worked."

talking to young mums and then later at her retirement presentation at the Potter Street Community Centre.

Heather notes that many of her "mums" were pictured in the background of the photo and many of them would now be in their 60s.

The presentation was made by Mrs Joyce Austin from the community centre retirement team.

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Harlow carnival

CHECK out these flamboyant young señors and señoritas.

This jolly lot were clapping their hands and stamping their feet to a flamenco beat at the Harlow Carnival of 1971.

The Spanish-style movers and shakers were aboard a float organised by a local flamenco dancing group.

We asked recently Nostalgia readers for memories of the town carnival and J. Heslop, of Ladyshot Road, came up trumps. Muchas gracias!

Mrs Heslop provided this picture, which features her husband on the far right. He was providing the music accompaniment on guitar.

Election candidates thank voters for their support

SIR, For the last 10 years, I have been urging Church Langley to vote in greater numbers. Last Thursday, they responded in style, with 4,322 voters out of 6,380, (68 per cent) voting – 2,718 (63 per cent) of those votes were for Conservatives.

I venture to say this is an all-time record for any ward in Harlow. This dramatic leap from bottom to top of Harlow's voting figures deserves my heartfelt thanks and a sincere 'well done'.

Church Langley clearly understands the mess the nation's finances are in and understands that tough measures have to be taken to get us out of it, just as they said to Harlow's Conservative councillors two years ago.

As Harlow's first-ever Conservative council, we responded, took hard and unpopular decisions, and have dragged Harlow back from the brink of an abyss.

This has cost us votes in parts of the town where decades of Labour patronage has left many people wondering how Harlow can function without a seemingly-bottomless pit of money handed out by Government and council alike.

Yes, we have a duty to the disabled, the old, the genuinely disadvantaged.

We also have a duty to those who have handed us the responsibility of governing and said, "get on with it".

Somewhat, we have to navigate this difficult path, which is set to get much steeper and more precarious, but climb it we must.

Thank you, Church Langley.

Cllr Tony Hall
Councillor for Church Langley

SIR, As the Labour candidate for the Old Harlow council seat in the elections on May 6, may I thank all of the 1,139 people who voted for me. The results in Old Harlow show there are a large number of local people who support progressive

We want a real police force, not intimidating wannabes

SIR, I am all for a new broom-sweeping clean, but I am astounded that the new chief states customer service is his number one priority.

Customers (we, the public) should have always been number one priority and he says community involvement is vitally important.

The fact that most crimes are solved with brave assistance from the public shows we do our best to assist and if it wasn't for those of us who put ourselves out to assist the police, less crime would be solved.

He then goes on to say with curious dichotomy that he needs to know what is important to us the public. I think it is self evident what we want and if the police service actually listened to the public's concerns over the many years it is supposed to have served us, he would clearly know what is important to us.

He also claims crime has been reduced in Harlow – or could it be that a lot of crime goes unreported, due to the lack of faith in our police service, whilst some crimes are simply brushed aside by the police deeming it not important enough to report or simply to hide, thus keeping figures low?

We do not want nodding dogs at community meetings, we want what we pay for, a quality service, smart police officers – clean shaven and not intimidating SWAT-lookalike wannabes.

S Sadler

candidates and policies on social justice, diversity and the positive role of public services in Harlow Council elections.

I am disappointed that I was not elected, but am confident that the 10 Labour members of the council, including the four who won seats on Thursday, will be a force for good in the town.

In the difficult times to come, it is important that the council is allowed to act positively for the benefit of all but especially for the most vulnerable in our community, whether they be the old, the ill or the young.

Now is not the time for cutbacks, but rather to expand services whilst ensuring they represent not just value for money, but real value for the people of Old Harlow.

I am determined to monitor the activity of our three local Tory councillors to make sure that they are pro-active in identifying the issues of concern in the community, not as has so often been the case in recent times, when they have only belatedly reacted to events and issues. I want to see them holding public meetings, publishing newsletters and being accountable to those whom they represent. Once again, my thanks to those who have supported me.

Charles Cochrane
Seeleys
Old Harlow

SIR, Could we express through your columns a big thank you to all those who voted Labour in the local elections and helped us gain our seats from the other parties in Mark Hall, Netteswell, Bush Fair and Toddbrook.

Labour hopes to restore the services that the Tories have taken away and we will do our best to keep the Conservative-controlled council from cutting any further services. Where there is a will there's a way and Labour councillors will be trying to persuade the Tories to restore the over-50s funding, the subsidies to many of Harlow's charities that do such a good job, to restore customers to the shopping centres by abolishing car park charges and getting back many other services we used to take for granted until this Tory council came along. Thanks once again, we will be working for you and hope your faith is reflected in next year's results when the Tory council could lose its majority.

Helen Hart, Paul Sztumpf,
Rod Truan & Mike Danvers
Members Room, Civic Centre

SIR, I would like to thank the electors of Great Parndon who have returned me once again to represent them on Harlow District Council. I will continue to do my best to serve this ward and the interests of all its residents.

Now that the elections are over, I hope that we can put party politics back in the cupboard and work together to build and develop our community.

My political opponents conducted themselves honourably and the polling stations in our ward were very well run by their presiding officers.

The count of votes at the Sportcentre was managed with quiet efficiency and praise is due to the counting staff who worked patiently and skilfully until 5am.

They had a huge task; the turnout of votes exceeded all expectations. Finally, I want to thank all those supporters who helped with my campaign.

Cllr Joshua Jolles
Councillor for Great Parndon

SIR, Although I was not re-elected, I would, through your newspaper, like to thank the 1,266 Conservative voters who came out and supported me on Thursday.

It has been an honour to serve you for the last two-and-a-half years.

I would also like to thank the army of tellers who covered the three polling stations for the full 15 hours at each one – especially those at St Mark's School where they had to sit outside all day often in periods of very cold weather.

Thank you all.

David Carter
Conservative candidate
Toddbrook Ward

SIR, I would like, through your pages, to thank the residents of Summers and Kingsmoor for returning me as their councillor for another term of office.

I would also like to thank my partner, my son and my team for their support during the election campaign and the returning officer and his team for their hard work on election night.

I look forward to continuing to represent all residents of Summers and Kingsmoor Ward for another four years.

Cllr Nick Churchill
Summers and Kingsmoor Ward

SIR, Please allow me the privilege of thanking the residents of Staple Tye for the outstanding support they gave me in the local elections. These are valued votes, which are indeed a motivator for myself and the loyal Labour Party Action Team to fight for all that is good for Harlow.

Dennis Palmer
Labour Caseworker for Staple Tye

Congrats, Robert

SIR, On behalf of the Harlow Constituency Labour Party, I would like to congratulate Robert Halfon on his election to be the new MP for Harlow.

I would also like to thank the outgoing member, Bill Rammell, for his outstanding work in representing and working for all the residents in the constituency, irrespective of their political attachments. He will be an incredible act to follow.

Congratulations also to the new councillors who were elected on the same night.

Six of these were Labour, four of whom were gains from the Tories and Liberal Democrats, putting the Labour Group back into the position as official opposition to the ruling Conservative administration.

As was the case here and in many other local authorities, Labour gains show that away from the national arena, dissatisfaction reigned because of the way Tories and Lib Dems serve local communities.

Lastly, I would be interested to know how Robert Halfon can reconcile his stated position, that he made at pre-election hustings, that he was against the Harlow North Development, when his Tory colleagues on the council are in favour of it.

Can he explain to the electorate how this can be so when there is a desperate need for housing in this area?

He also stipulated that he would fight to get the A414 bypass built, something with which we all agree. Has anybody in his party locally told him that the last time this scheme was seriously considered, many years ago, it was Tory opposition in the Sawbridgeworth area that scuppered the idea?

Is he confident he can persuade that particular lobby this time? Good luck, Robert!

Derek Fenny
Press officer
Harlow Constituency Labour Party

One final question

SIR, One last question for our ex-MP Bill Rammell.

Will the London accommodation he purchased with our money be sold and the cash returned to the community?

Struck-off 'slim pills doc' jailed

By COURT REPORTER

star.hertsessexnews.co.uk

A STRUCK-OFF doctor who illegally sold slimming pills from a Harlow clinic has been jailed for 18 months.

St Albans Crown Court heard that Sudesh Madan (57) was caught after a bottle of slimming tablets prescribed by her was found in an abandoned car involved in a fatal road accident on the A414 in Hertfordshire last year.

As part of the police investigation Madan, who ran a slimming clinic based in the Latton Bush Centre on Southern Way, was approached by officers.

She admitted she had prescribed the driver 75 mg of Phenatimine and 30 mg Diethylpropion – although there was no evidence to suggest the pills contributed in any way to the crash.

Police then discovered that Madan had been struck off by the General Medical Council in November 2001 after flouting medical guidelines by selling banned appetite suppressant pills.

Madan was arrested on December 10 after she supplied undercover police officers with tablets at a clinic in Welwyn Garden City.

She admitted she had been struck off and was not entitled to supply the drugs from her clinics in Harlow, Welwyn, Wakefield, Huddersfield and Barnsley.

Madan, from Romford, pleaded guilty to four counts of supplying a controlled drug of Class C and four counts of possessing a controlled drug of Class C with intent to supply.

Defence barrister Andrew Kerry said: "She knows her actions in setting up these clinics deceived her patients who thought they were dealing with a qualified and practising doctor, when she was not."

Jailing her, Judge Stephen Gullick said: "It is of the utmost importance that the public have confidence in the medical professionals they consult."

"You were masquerading as a doctor when in fact you had been struck off."

Madan is due to face proceedings under the Proceeds of Crime Act to recover her assets.

Iliffe chief's newspaper tour

NEWSPAPER Society president David Fordham this week finished a tour of 40 publishing centres across the UK.

Mr Fordham, who is chief executive of the Star publisher, Iliffe News and Media, has travelled the length and breadth of the UK to investigate the changing state of local newspapers.

Mr Fordham, who completed his tour during Local Newspaper Week, said: "It's interesting to see how the different centres are coping with these changes and the different initiatives being taken."

"What I'm trying to do is to take round a positive attitude about the future for regional press. You can't help but notice there have been lots of commercial initiatives."

He added: "Like many local businesses, local papers have had a tough time in the past two years. Many people became worried that the voice of their local community for generations might be silenced because of economic difficulties."

"The local paper – in print or online – plays a vital role in any lively local community. It is a trusted source of news, a familiar guiding hand and the bedrock of local democracy."

Mr Fordham's tour has raised more than £5,000 for charities, including Teenage Cancer Trust, Macmillan nurses and the Cambridge News community fund, Press Relief, thanks to contributions from local newspapers.

Midnight call-up!

WITH just one month to go until the St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk, staff at William Martin Infant and Nursery School are warming up for the event that puts the fun back into fundraiser!

A team of 14 ladies from the Tawneys Road school have signed up along with hundreds other women for this year's event, which takes place on June 19 and is once again backed by the Star.

Liz Kinsella, headteacher of the school, said: "Over the year, the school raises money for several charities and we thought this year forming a team to join the Midnight Walk would be a good idea to help support one of our local charities."

"Most of us in the school have known either family or friends who have been cared for in the hospice and all of us appreciate the good work that St Clare Hospice do and because of this we thought it would be fun to take part as well as supporting a good cause."

This year, organisers are hoping the event will raise £140,000 to help fund the vital services provided by the Hastingwood hospice for people in West Essex and East Hertfordshire with life-limiting illnesses.

The 10k walk will start at the Water Gardens at 10.30pm and head towards Old Harlow, before returning to the town centre.

Last year's event saw over 1,600 people take part, all dressed in pink T-shirts or fancy dress with flashing bunny ears lighting up the route. "Despite a slower than normal start, entries are now starting to pour in," said event organiser Tracy Stratford.

"In the last week or so, we've had lots of registration forms arriving daily and loads of people signing up on our website each day. It's getting really close now with just four weeks left to sign up!"

Giles Wright, St Clare's communications manager, added: "It is the single biggest event of the year for St Clare as both a fundraising event and a way for us to organise something fun and different for the people of Harlow who support us throughout the year and keep the hospice service running."

German pond of destiny awaits for the Players

REVIEW

Double Bottom
Moot House Players, Moot Hall

INTERNATIONAL acclaim surely awaits Harlow's Moot House Players when their spectacular new adaptation of Bottom's Dream is presented at the prestigious Donzdorf Festival in Germany this week.

The am-dram group's penultimate performance in Harlow last week was a dazzling one-hour version of the well-known act taken from Shakespeare's Midsummer Night's Dream in which Nick Bottom, the weaver, is given an ass's head by a jealous King of the Fairies, Oberon, to spite his seductive wife, Titania. Visually, the play was stunning, with some superb costumes, and it's safe to say that director Rosemary Caswell has created theatre that will adapt to a variety of different stages in Germany.

The Rude Mechanicals, ably assembled by Quince the Carpenter (Henrietta Branwell), were the highlight of the show, with a strong lead performance from Geoff Leeds as Nick Bottom.

To complete a great night's entertainment, the Players complemented the Bard's vision with a modern short play called Rock Bottom about the traumas, trials and tribulations of an am-dram group.

First-time director Dan Powell got the best out of Jenny Southwell, who convincingly played Augusta Wilmott, the nemesis of any theatre company.

The introduction of Matt Truman as a cub reporter was a successful counter to the bitchy antics of the thespians.

Technically, both comedies were very impressive, and much can be learned from why the bemused introspection of Robin Starveling (David Albinson) and the exuberant frolics of Francis Flute (Michael Branwell) were both so successful. German audiences will enjoy the knockabout humour of Bottom's Dream and it will be interesting to see how the cast define their roles over several performances. As Augusta Wilmott intones in the finale of Rock Bottom, "the pond of destiny awaits".

Comedian Andy pulling solo show out of a hat

AWARD-winning comedian and writer Andy Hamilton plays the mischievous milliner in rib-tickling one-man show Hat Of Doom at The Playhouse on Wednesday.

The co-creator and co-writer of the BBC's consistently brilliant Outnumbered and a regular panellist on TV shows Have I Got New For You and QI, Hamilton is one of the UK's most prolific comedians but has very rarely performed in solo stand-up gigs.

The hat referred to in the show's title will act as the link between Hamilton and his audience, who will be asked to delve into the terrifying tifter and pick out random topics for the comic to discuss. So expect the show to be packed to the brim with everything from trampolining to nudity. The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £17 (£15 concessions) from (01279) 431945.

ROBIN HOOD
certificate 12A 2h 20m

EVERY generation has its own version of Robin Hood. Douglas Fairbanks donned the tights with pride in the early 1920s, followed by a dashing Errol Flynn with a feather in his cap in the 1930s and Richard Greene in the long-running 1950s TV series.

Disney cast a wily fox as Robin in the splendid 1973 animated version before Michael Praed and then Jason Connery portrayed "the hooded man" in the popular ITV series Robin Of Sherwood. More recently, Kevin Costner flexed his bow to Bryan Adams's (Everything I Do) I Do It For You and Jonas Armstrong sexed up the Saturday night schedule on BBC One as the eponymous crusader.

With each new incarnation, the mythology has been embellished and any historical veracity sacrificed at the altar of artistic licence.

Director Ridley Scott and leading man Russell Crowe reunite for a thunderous new opening chapter in the legend of the 12th century folk hero.

Shot with Scott's typical bombast, this Robin Hood juxtaposes spectacular battle scenes with romantic interludes, political intrigue and melancholic flashbacks, all set to Marc Treitenfeld's rumbustious score.

It's unabashedly macho and predictable with an inevitable battle cry for Crowe to rally the troops into action: Gladiarcher, if you will.

Richard The Lionheart (Danny Huston) is slain on the battlefield by the Norman invaders.

Fearless archer Robin Longstride (Crowe) and his friends Little John (Kevin Durand), Will Scarlet (Scott Grimes) and Allan A'Dayle (Alan Doyle) head back to England.

In order to secure safe passage back home, Robin poses as slain knight Sir Robert Loxley (Douglas Hodge) and continues the ruse with the dead man's wife, Marion (Cate Blanchett), in order that she clings onto the family estate once ruled by the now blind and decrepit Sir Walter Loxley (Max von Sydow). Over time, Robin falls in love with Marion but any chances of an enduring romance are threatened by double-crossing Godfrey (Mark Strong).

Meanwhile in London, Prince John (Oscar Isaac) seizes the throne but makes enemies of advisor William Marshal (William Hurt) and his mother, Eleanor of Aquitaine (Eileen Atkins). Robin Hood is a lively jaunt through Plantagenet history, incorporating the familiar figures of Friar Tuck (Mark Addy) and the Sheriff of Nottingham (Matthew Macfadyen).

Crowe's accent roams the British Isles depending on who he is acting opposite, which is distracting, but Blanchett is luminous with an unshakable Nottingham burr, which adds warmth to some choice lines of dialogue.

"I sleep with a dagger," Marion warns Robin when they first meet. "If you so much as move to touch me, I will sever your manhood!"

Strong doesn't overplay his villain, hissing all of the usual orders to kill Robin, with flecks of humour courtesy of the soon-to-be-Merry Men and Addy's man of the mead-soaked cloth.

Screenwriter Brian Helgeland ends with Robin and co exiled in the forest, accompanied by the title card, "And so the legend begins".

If Scott's film hits the bullseye at the box office, you can be sure that Robin and Marion will ride again in a sequel.

Award-winning vision of war

LEBANON
certificate 15 1h 33m

SAMUEL Maoz's bravura depiction of war deservedly won the coveted Golden Lion at the 2009 Venice Film Festival.

Shot from the perspective of a four-strong team of men within a tank during the First Lebanon War, the film begins in June 1982 with tank commander Assi (Itay Tiran) preparing to lead his men – ammunition loader Hertzl (Oshri Cohen), gun man Shmulik (Yoav Donat) and driver Yigal (Michael Moshonov) – into hostile territory.

What begins as a routine mission descends into carnage and tensions flare within the tank, leading to bickering between the soldiers.

An Israeli commander, Jamil (Zohar Strauss), leaves a Syrian captive (Dudu Tassa) in the bowels of the tank to ensure his safe passage through the war zone.

The prisoner's presence exacerbates divisions between Assi and his team and the superior officer struggles to maintain firm control in the face of challenges to his authority.

A worthy winner at last year's prestigious Venice festival.

Audi's new coupe raises the bar

With a rear-biased all-wheel drive system, a faster 0-62mph time yet lower fuel consumption and reduced CO₂, the Audi RS 5 Coupe is not only more potent but also cleaner by some margin. IAIN DOOLEY takes it for a test drive.

Sixty thousand pounds. It's a lot of money and if you've got it to spend on a car you're going to be spoiled for choice.

If high performance is your thing, the options open to you are still wide. If, however, you want a combination of power, four-seat practicality and all-weather capability, suddenly you're left with only a handful to choose from.

You can pretty much rule out any BMW or Mercedes, while anything from Porsche will be too expensive. The all-weather stipulation really narrows down the field, leaving Nissan's highly acclaimed GT-R to duke it out with Audi's box-fresh RS 5 Coupe.

Both pack four-wheel drive and a serious amount of horsepower, but that's where the similarities end. The GT-R's PlayStation-generation character puts it firmly in the camp marked hardcore.

It's not every day a new RS Audi variant appears, as the firm makes it a tradition that only one model is produced at any one time. We've just waved goodbye to the critically acclaimed RS 4 and the pressure

FACTfile

Audi RS 5 Coupe

from £57,480
(available October 2010)

ENGINE	4.2-litre V8 petrol unit developing 450bhp
TRANSMISSION	7-speed S-tronic dual clutch driving all four wheels
PERFORMANCE	0-62mph 4.6s / top speed 155mph
ECONOMY	26.2mpg
CO ₂ EMISSIONS	252g/km

is on the RS 5 to deliver an even stronger performance, especially given its sub-£60k price tag.

For some the RS 4 was the turning point. After years of less than outstanding models, the car delivered in spades – ride, handling, traction and engine all impressed.

Audi's RS signature attributes remain with the RS 5. V8 petrol power, quattro all-wheel drive and affordability. With more power from its 4.2-litre engine, a faster 0-62mph time yet lower fuel consumption and reduced CO₂, the RS 5 is not only more potent but also cleaner by some margin.

The muscular-looking RS5 also packs more technology than its predecessor. Standard fit is now a seven-speed dual clutch S-tronic gearbox complete with paddle shifters. A specially tuned version of Audi's drive select system is included, which allows the driver to switch between a comfort and dynamic mode plus an auto position.

Transmission, engine, suspension and gearbox characteristics are changed accordingly, plus there's a custom setting for good measure when the optional navigation system is chosen. And that's not including the RS-specific suspension changes over the current S5 model.

Factor in two large tailpipes, a suitably appropriate bodykit, speed activated bootlid spoiler, big wheels, chunky-looking yet supportive sports seats and a smattering of carbon trim and you've got all the ingredients to make a stunning performance coupe.

At this point the cynics will be waiting for the bad news. Sorry guys, but this car really does hit the jackpot. Looking the part is an obvious plus and the RS 5 follows this up with a polished performance.

Key to the car's ability to impress is the way it adapts to changing roads and surfaces. The drive select feature is no gimmick and when left in the auto position the car is talented enough to demonstrate a balanced power delivery, intelligent gearshifts and a composed ride.

For most of the time this proves to be the ideal setting. Comfort softens everything up a touch and tames the car's otherwise vocal exhaust, making it great for discrete city driving.

Kicking it up a notch is the dynamic setting which, as you'd expect, sharpens responses and turns the volume up on that beefy V8 motor. The result is a more direct and focused driving experience; from sleeping giant when in comfort mode, the V8 barks and bellows its way up through the gears while the steering delivers a weightier feel. The car feels more agile, too.

Learning from the S4 and its advanced transmission, Audi has endowed the RS 5 with a rear-biased all-wheel drive system in a bid to inject more fun. The 60-40 split certainly makes the car feel more playful, and just for good measure the 'sport' rear differential and a self-locking centre unit do a good job of fine tuning responses and sending more power to the front or rear when needed respectively.

You soon forget all about the technical gubbins when sat in the RS 5's supportive sports seat, though. It only takes a few miles for you to realise that you don't have to grapple with the car's steering or tire of its constant goading to get you to go faster. The sign of a well-sorted performance car is its ability to behave in a relaxed manner at slow speeds, yet respond in kind when you want to go faster and harder away from the city limits. The RS 5 will do all these things, plus you can also get two people in the back and a fair amount of clobber in its spacious boot.

As far as affordable, high performance all-rounders go, the RS5 has raised the bar.

Clio 20th Edition to be won in Renault's Test Drive Competition

One lucky Renault Clio fan could be joining Nicole, Papa and Thierry Henry and a million happy Clio owners when they drive away in a Clio 20th Special Edition – the top prize in a national test drive draw.

E J Darlington is just one of the Renault dealers throughout the UK who will be offering customers the opportunity to win a Clio 20th Special Edition. All drivers need to do is take a test drive in the New Clio before the end of June to enter the prize draw.

There are also 20 romantic weekends at a Mr & Mrs Smith hotel in Paris to be won. And the first thousand customers that go for a spin will get a copy of another French icon, the Mr & Mrs Smith French Hotel Collection guide. Fresh off the printing presses, the book comes with a year's 'Blacksmith' membership entitling you to all sorts of perks and privileges at their hotels.

The competition is just part of E J Darlington's 20 days of celebrations to mark the Clio's 20th birthday. The Clio was famously launched in 1990 with the accompaniment of one of the most popular and remembered adverts ever, starring Nicole and Papa (and Cesar award-winning actor Vincent Cassel in the earliest days of his career!).

The success of these adverts continued when the phrase 'Va Va Voom' appeared in the 'Size Matters' campaign starring seductive French actress, Hélène Mathieu for the launch of the first Clio Renaultsport, the 172. Just three years later, French striker, Thierry Henry, built on the phrase's cult status in his series of ads which ran from 2001 to 2004 and the phrase is now part of everyday speech and has a place in the Concise Oxford English dictionary.

The popular supermini has come a long way since then, selling more than 10 million worldwide, and more than one million in the UK. The Clio is now in its third incarnation and while it retains the personality of its forebears, it's reached unrivalled levels of comfort, safety and drive quality.

Additionally, the New Clio 20th Special Edition has 20th edition badging, newly-styled front bumpers, sporty 16" alloy wheels, sport upholstery, extra tinted rear windows, integrated Carminat TomTom satellite navigation, cruise control, 4 x 20W radio CD sound system with MP3 connectivity and Bluetooth hands free connectivity. Unbelievably, all of these features are available as standard.

The new Renault Clio 20th special edition marks the 20th anniversary of the Renault Clio.

Gary Hollinshead, Sales Manager at E J Darlington, said: "We're saying 'bon anniversaire' to the iconic Clio but it will be our customers who will be celebrating and receiving prizes!"

"We're inviting local drivers to come and see us, test drive the Clio and hopefully win a Clio 20th Special Edition!"

To celebrate the 20 days Darlingtons are pricing the Clio 20th at a very special price of £11,950 a saving of £3,000 against the list price. For more information visit E J Darlington on River Way or call 0843 316 0213. Alternatively click onto www.ejdarlington.co.uk

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website. Payment per vehicle negotiable.

Up up and away with HR GO Commercial!

HR GO Commercial can find you the right talent to make your business fly in 2010!

As a thank you for our clients' continued support in 2010 HR GO Commercial ran a competition to win a flight in our HR GO Hot Air Balloon!

The two winning clients; Peter Gallagher from Arrow Electronics and Lynsey Fuller from Saffron Building Society, won a flight for themselves and their partners. A very excited Lynsey commented; "I never win anything, this is perfect timing as it is my husband's 40th birthday this year and I wanted to buy a balloon ride for him!"

2010 has got off to a fantastic start for HR GO Commercial. After a challenging year in 2009 we have found clients are looking forward to 2010 and what it holds for their business. Clients are recruiting to make sure they have the right permanent and temporary staff in place to push their business through and ensure it goes from strength to strength.

We are currently offering reduced fees to new clients, so if you have a temporary or permanent vacancy please contact the team at HR GO Commercial to see how we can help you. Don't forget it does not cost you a penny unless we find you the right person!

We welcome Louise Brightly to the Commercial Team. Louise is an experienced Consultant, who has worked in Commercial and Industrial recruitment as a Temporaries Consultant.

Tanya Stevens has also returned to HR GO Commercial after a sabbatical, we are delighted to have her back on board.

With temporary and permanent vacancies available, we may just have your dream job waiting for you!

HDFL, Premier Division
Cup final

BEN Doyle grabbed two goals as he helped bottom club Pools Athletic come from behind to beat Maypole Athletic and win the Harlow & District Football League Premier Division Cup final.

Sunday's final at Bishop's Stortford FC was played in front of a 120-strong crowd and was between two sides struggling in the bottom half of the premier division. Pools started better but fell behind on 17 minutes. Brad Smith was adjudged by ref Lee Dorling to have brought down Mitchell Das in the box and Sam

POOLS ATHLETIC

Crichton converted the subsequent penalty.

Ten minutes later, Ben Doyle made room for himself well before firing a great 20-yard shot past Ross Garaty to make it 1-1.

Pools went ahead on 41 minutes. Jordan Childs' free-kick to the far post found Doyle who headed back to Charlie Jordan and he fired home.

The game's final goal came on 48 minutes. Michael Gliddon's great cross into the Maypole box evaded everyone and landed at the feet of Doyle, who stroked in his second goal.

Leg break mars cup joy

Sapphire Utd 3, GPCA 1
HDFL, Senior Champions
League Cup final

SAPPHIRE United's victory in the first ever Harlow & District League Senior Champions League Cup Final was dedicated to their substitute Kerry Walton who suffered a suspected broken leg in the match.

Walton challenged for the ball and went down in the 79th minute of Monday's clash at Bishop's Stortford FC.

The game was delayed for around 25 minutes as an ambulance crew treated him at the scene. He was then taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital in Harlow.

Sapphire Captain Neil Fussell said: "This victory is for Kerry and we all wish him well."

It was Sapphire's second cup final win of the season.

They secured the

Division One Cup last month.

If they win their games in hand they could win the division one title to complete an impressive treble.

The Senior Champions League Cup is for premier, division one and division two teams, with teams starting in groups before the competition switched to a knockout format.

GPCA went ahead on 24 minutes when a great free-kick from Scott Rogerson was headed home by Ryan Williams.

Sapphire equalised on 58 minutes when a Craig Charles corner was headed home by Stuart Zanone.

Sapphire went ahead on 73 minutes. Adam Bullock teed up Ricardo Remi who smashed the ball past the helpless GPCA keeper Neil Fitzpatrick.

Four minutes after the game resumed following Walton's injury, Remi turned a marker inside the box and smashed home for his second goal.

SAPPHIRE UTD: Ponter, J. Zanone, Sam Zanone, Fussell, Eke, Charles, Williamson, Poole, Dobson, Stuart Zanone, Remi. Subs used: Bullock, Walton, Newman.

Holland flattens Matching

Matching Utd res 3, Eppaldo FC 8
HDFL, Junior
Champions League
Cup final

CHRIS Holland bagged a hat-trick as Eppaldo FC thrashed Matching United reserves to win the inaugural Harlow & District Football League Junior Champions League Cup Final in front of 200 people.

The competition was strictly for sides in division three, four and five.

Eppaldo (division three) and Matching United reserves (division four) qualified for Sunday's final at Bishop's Stortford FC after coming through the group and knockout stages.

Eppaldo scored twice on three and 20 minutes in the first half.

Holland poked

On 50 minutes, a diving header from Holland made it 3-0 but on 59 minutes Matching's R. Connolly beat the offside trap and coolly rounded Eppaldo keeper S. Keene to tap in.

However, the match firmly swung Eppaldo's way with five goals on 60, 65, 66, 68, and 72 minutes.

Cole tapped home a second before Holland latched onto an error from Matching to complete his hat-trick.

Luke Berry set up Chris Allen who rounded Adkins to shoot home, before Warren turned and fired a piledriver into the net.

Allen netted his second with a lovely volley for 8-1.

Matching never gave up and on 80 minutes Weaving beat a defender to rifle in and in the last minute D. Palmer nodded home a Ben Ford cross.

It was Eppaldo's

second cup final win, coming after their Harlow & District League Plate triumph (see report below).

MATCHING UNITED RES: Adkins, Churchill, Palmer, Best, French, Vittori, Malins, Gliddon, Weaving, Ford (c), Connolly. Subs used: Grainger, Martin. Subs not used: Wilcox, Goodman.

EPPALDO FC: Keene, Humbles, Church, Burrows, Warren (c), Wells, Allen, Berry, C. Holland, T. Cole, N. Park. Subs used: Ren, Hynes. Subs not used: Wilkins, Kodell, Major.

Extra time needed in Plate final

EXTRA time was needed before Eppaldo FC edged out FC Clark to win the Harlow & District Football League Plate final.

Both division three sides are still chasing glory in the league as well.

The first 90 minutes produced no goals and it was also a forgettable time for Clark's Jordan Tovell, who also plays for Harlow Hockey Club's first team.

He sustained a broken ankle following a crunching tackle

FC Clark 0, Eppaldo 1
Harlow & District Football League, Plate final

just before half-time.

He was taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital in Harlow for treatment.

The first period also saw Clark's Adam Johnson have a shot cleared off the line by Chris Allen.

Eppaldo's Chris Willis later struck the woodwork.

Eppaldo's R. Warren came closest to scoring in the second half when his free-kick struck the crossbar.

The deadlock was broken when Frankie Major beat the offside trap and slotted the ball past Clark keeper J. Weekes from 18 yards.

FC CLARK: Weekes, Neeve, Russell, Best, Golder, Hope, D. Tovell, Campbell, J. Tovell, Johnson, Stevenson. Subs: Nash, Mann, Trickey.

EPPALDO: S. Keene, McCormack, Rodell, Burrows, D. Keene, Warren, Willis, Allen, Major, Holland, Berry. Subs: Park, Church, Cole, Hynes, Humbles.

Club secretary's final jinx goes on

Hatfield Heath reserves 1, Albury 1 (aet)

Hatfield won 4-3 on pens Footprint B. Stortford, Stansted & District League, Inter-divisional Cup final HATFIELD Heath FC secretary David Pyle will surely be banned from attending any more of his club's cup finals following Saturday's Inter-divisional Cup victory against Albury – which he missed!

Pyle, who is the club's Sunday team goalkeeper, was away in Derbyshire and missed Hatfield's win on penalties at Bishop's Stortford Football Club.

He said: "The club have been in 17 cup finals since I've been involved. I've played in or attended all 12 defeats and missed all five victories. I must have the evil eye.

"My only taste of cup victory is when we won the Saffron Walden Cup and that is separate to the Saturday and Sunday leagues."

After 120 minutes of action produced a 1-1 draw, the shoot-out saw Albury lead 3-2 after the first six spot-kicks.

Hatfield's Darren Cormack had his penalty saved by keeper Steve King.

However, the tide turned as Albury's Pat Steadman and Lee Dyer had their spot-kicks saved, while Hatfield's Stewart Jackson and Luke Brownlee converted their penalties to seal victory.

Earlier, Nick Bearfield headed home a Brownlee corner putting Hatfield ahead just before the break before Robert Helps equalised on 75 minutes.

Hatfield's player-manager Ian Bartram said: "We deserved to win and edged it. Sam Turner made two superb saves."

Albury player-boss Dan White said: "We did not play as well as we could. They edged it."

HATFIELD HEATH RES: Turner, Lutichford, Bartram, Howard, Cormack, Hudson (Pammen 85), Bearfield, Jackson, Brownlee, Bull (Vintner 65), Cogan (Ledain 70).

ALBURY: King, Robinson (B. White 60), D. White, Jolley, Helps, Czerkas, Hamilton-Pilot, McAllister (Dyer 30), Heal, Dann (Steadman 65), J. White.

Birchanger close in on division one crown

BIRCHANGER just need a victory against Avondale Rangers tonight (Thursday) to seal the division one title.

Alemite Athletic reserves moved top on goals difference after a 3-1 win at third-placed Avondale on Tuesday.

Alemite's hopes of winning the title suffered a massive dent when they lost 3-2 at Sheering reserves in division one on Saturday.

Footprint B. Stortford, Stansted & District League

Sheering reserves netted through Rob Leland, Peter Reeves and Martin Welch.

Avondale had cut the gap on the top two with a walkover win over North Weald res (unable to raise a side).

In the premier division, Flynn Cumming scored for Heath Rovers when they drew 1-1 at home to Loughton.

Osagie invited to mentor young GB hopefuls roots athletics programme.

Athletics

Osagie will assist in delivering a day of mentoring, education and specialised training to 58 promising U-20 at Loughborough College on Saturday May 15.

Osagie will provide advice and support to these athletes as they gear up for this summer's championships.

Osagie said: "It's good for younger athletes to get first-hand experience of the highs and lows of athletics."

"There's not always a smooth road ahead so the more prepared you can be, the better you can deal with and move on from possible disappointments, and make the most of your positive achievements."

"I personally enjoy helping out young athletes when possible, and hope I can offer valuable advice to those attending this education and mentoring day supported by Aviva."

Kain caps season with Player of Year award

>>Cont'd from back

This was in recognition of their contribution to the sport and to the club.

These went to Steve Foreman, Chris McFerran and Dave Sharp, all of whom have held a range of different posts at the club for many years.

Having missed most of the previous season with a serious injury, Claridge came back strongly this year and deservedly claimed the 1st XV Player of the Year award.

He shared the Players' Player award with fellow back row star Shaun Roberts.

The Most Improved Player award went to Luke Bowering who has developed strongly this year as a centre and has the potential to take his game to a considerably higher level.

Having been promoted last season, Harlow Ladies celebrated an excellent third in their league.

The Player of the Year award went to lock Claire Lacey, while the Players' Player went to centre Becky Conway.

The Most Improved Player was Tina Baldwin.

The Ladies team made a special presentation to Kelly Cotterill who is standing down as captain after a number of successful seasons.

Dyfrig Powell was made a life member in recognition of his contribution both as a player and more recently in a number of non-playing roles including the last 10 years during which he has been a touch judge for first XV matches.

The Rams' President's Award went to Chris McFerran in recognition of his service as club secretary for many years.

Other awards went to therapist James Heaton and youth team coach Ken Potter.

Other awards:- 2nd XV Player of the Year - Dean Read; Most Improved Player - Matt Treves.

3rd XV - Player of the Year - Rob Kelly; Most Improved Player - James Chapman.

4th XV - Player of the Year - Danny Fitzgerald; Most Improved Player - James Mitchell.

Resurgent Town smash champs

Buntingford 120, Harlow Tn 121-1

Harlow Tn won by 9 wickets Herts & Essex Cricket League, division one

A TOP performance from Harlow Town got their season rolling with a first league win against last season's division one champions Buntingford at Ash Tree Fields.

After losing their first game against Newport, Vic Goddard's side won an important toss and elected to field in the damp and cold conditions.

Town claimed an early wicket when Dan Calver had the Buntingford opener Steve Paola caught at slip by skipper Goddard for 4.

Chambers (29) and Chris Ford (22) added 43 for the second wicket without much trouble.

Marc Lowers (3-24) then claimed the crucial wicket of Chambers.

Lowers dismissed Ford with a legside half volley which the batsmen kicked onto his stumps.

Ramaya Upadhyay (3-29) bowled a cunning spell of slow bowling from the golf course end which ripped through the middle order and left Town in control.

Lowers claimed another victim with a brilliant swinging full toss delivery which the batsmen chopped onto his stumps.

Charlie Coleman, with two wickets, finished the innings off with the help of Simon Rowell (1 wicket) to dismiss Buntingford for just 120.

Town openers Pat Yates and Shiraz Ali, who both missed last week's match, were in full control at the crease.

Both played themselves in and knocked off the small total in 30 overs. Yates scored 52 not out and Shiraz was dismissed for 57 with just two runs needed for victory.

In division three, Harlow Town II (84-4) beat Roding Valley (83-8); David Pistorius 3-13) by six wickets and in division six, Harlow Town III (201-5; Bilal Ali 64) beat Thorley II (200-5) by five wickets.

Potter Street (248-8) defeated hosts Woodford Wells IV (179) by 69 runs in division three, while their second team scored 169-2 to win by 8 wickets at home to Langley II (165).

Hawks close to appointing new manager

FOOTBALL fans in Harlow could have two reasons to celebrate soon.

Harlow Town FC will appoint a new manager imminently, while even better news came in the shape of Hawks co-owner Tommy Cunningham's resolve to bring back Harlow & District League cup finals to Barrows Farm.

Cunningham and the board were due to interview their third and final candidate for the manager's job yesterday afternoon (Wednesday).

This is the second interview for all three candidates.

The only applicant who has been named is current caretaker boss Kevin Warren.

Cunningham refuses to name the other two, but admitted the club had concerns about appointing a manager who would bring in whole new set of players.

He said: "We have got a final interview later this afternoon. Then we will make a decision. It would be unfair to speculate."

Cunningham says he hopes the new boss will be able to sign up to six new players almost immediately. However, some may want to play in the Ryman League.

With five clubs applying for promotion to the Ryman League from the Essex Senior League, it looks increasingly likely that the Hawks will be in the lower league. Barkingside, Witham, Bethnal Green, Enfield 1893 and Burnham Ramblers all want to go up.

But it is Harlow's role in the community which could be crucial over the next few years and Cunningham's olive branch to the Harlow & District League is a good sign.

There was uproar when the League had to play their finals at Bishop's Stortford FC this season. Cunningham voiced security issues for not allowing them to take place this season.

But the Hawks supremo wants talks with the League and hopes the finals can return next year. "It's important to us. We must come to some agreement where everyone is happy really."

"Hopefully we will sit down with them. I understand where [the League] is coming from but we want to do it properly."

Threes success is a Staple diet!

STAPLE Tye Colts A defeated White Admiral A in the final of the Harlow & District Darts League Threes Knockout competition.

Thirty-three teams competed.

The Staple Tye team of Mick McNally, Martin Davies and Darren Harlow beat Admiral's Andy Hentall, Dave Galloway and Roland Renker.

The match was poised at 1-1 before Colts took the third and final leg to triumph.

Twelve-year-old Reece Barnett shot a 180 in the first game of the night for Young Pretenders but his team lost out 2-0 to the eventual runners-up.

In the quarter-finals, Staple Tye Colts B (Richie Barnard, Mick Williams and Douglas Thomas) lost out 2-0 to eventual winners Staple Tye Colts A.

Young Pretenders A (Neil McKnight, Scott McKnight and Peter McDonald) went down 2-0 to Tye Green Whites A. Servo Link C (Steve Devereux, Paul Holloway and Chris Squirrel) lost 2-0 to Moot House Arrows A.

Servo Link A (Jeff Etherington, Dicky Foster, James Jennings) were beaten 2-0 against White Admiral A.

Admiral won 2-0 in their semi-final against Moot House Arrows A (Ron Green, Damian Green and Ashley Rawlinson).

Staple Tye had defeated Tye Green Whites A (Steve Jefferies, Mick Rout and Mick Verrells) 2-0 to reach the final.

Great start for Harlow

A MAGNIFICENT batting display helped secure a winning start for Jason McNally's new-look Harlow side in their league opener on Saturday.

New signing Ahmed Khawaja, above, was the star of the show with a wonderful 140.

Batting first, hosts Harlow were 7-1 after the departure of Nino Calvino for 3.

But a century-plus stand from opener Rehman Ahmed and Khawaja helped Harlow post a substantial target.

McNally (26) and James Butler (34) also chipped in as the home side posted 326 in just 48.3 overs.

Ryan Madder (5-50) was Horndon's most successful wicket-taker.

Horndon struggled to build a match-winning partnership chasing such a daunting total. Opener Danny Joyce (48) gave the visitors a good start.

Liam Hubbard (40) and Andrew Hilditch (31) chipped in but wickets fell regularly as they were dismissed for 201.

The wickets were shared by Luke Monger (2-28), Andrew McGarry (3-38), Khawaja (2-24) and Luke Heskett (3-49).

What a result

Town athletes dominate Essex Championships

YOUNG athletes from Harlow were celebrating huge success at the Essex County Championships.

Four golds, three silvers and three bronze medals were gained in total despite chilly conditions at Melbourne Park in Chelmsford at the weekend.

Four fourth places were also achieved.

Essex coaching secretary John Stow, from Harlow, said: "This is an excellent set of results from Harlow athletes who are all very dedicated to our sport."

"Harlow has not seen a set of results like this for many years now."

Markus Hunt, recovering from a shin stress fracture that has kept him out of training for three months, was first in the senior men's 400m (50.11s).

Kirsty McIntosh (22) won the senior women's pole vault (3.40m), booking her place in the Essex team for the CAU Inter Counties Championships later this month.

Passmores School student Alfie Falconer (11) won the U-13 boys hammer with a personal best (PB) throw of 26.67m, while his older brother Billy (17) from Harlow College was second in the U-20 high jump (1.95m).

Tom Richards (17), a St

Mark's School pupil, claimed silver in the U-20 javelin with a PB of 51.42m.

His school colleague Amy Larkin (17) grabbed bronze in the U-20 hammer (25.11m), while Alexandra Hill earned a bronze in the U-20 women's 400m (59.6s, PB) and then came 4th in the 200m (26.11s, PB).

Sophie Fuhr (16), a Burnt Mill School student, was third in the U-17 girls 400m in 1 min 1.86s.

Burnt Mill School mate Perry Rowan (13) was 4th in the U-15 boys 3km race in 10:14. He is ranked 6th in the Eastern Region.

Mark Hall School student Tyler Bown (15) was fourth in the tightly-contested U-17 boys 400m final in 53.6s.

Harlow Athletic Club member Isobel Moss (14) achieved an excellent 4th spot in the U-15 girls 3km event with a PB of 11:55.

Tom Larkin (17), a Harlow College student, was 4th in the U-20 400m in 52.5s, but Mark Hall's Alicia McDardell (12) was a victim of some unfair pushing during her 800m heat but still recorded 2:42 to come 9th in the U-13 girls event.

Sixteen-year-old Sam Bengé (Stewards) came 5th in his U-17 boys 800m heat with a PB of 2:08.9. In the U-17 boys 3km race, Bengé was 11th in a PB of 9:58.
